Used Headset Warranty

Electroair Services warrants that any used headset sold with a warranty will be fit for the purpose of aviation communications when used in conjunction with standard, approved aviation communication systems of an appropriate type.

This warranty covers communications functionality only. It does not cover any mechanical or aesthetic aspect of any headset.

If within 90 days from the date of purchase any headset is proved to not function in a way that would allow aviation communications to be conducted, Electroair Services will at their option repair or replace the headset. Because used headsets are available in different makes and models at different times and continuity of supply, or availability of any particular make or model cannot be guaranteed, any replacement headset might not be the same make or model but will be the closest available to the original headset.

As an alternative to repairing or replacing a headset Electroair Services may at their sole discretion choose to refund the purchase price of the original headset. Any such refund will not include or cover packing, shipping or any other costs.

This warranty does not apply to any product used for business purposes.
